Free Keeping Teens Safe in the Real & Virtual Worlds Seminar

As teens strive for more independence, it is important to equip them with the tools they need to keep them safe (especially since they believe they are invincible at this age).

This important workshop is for parents and guardians interested in learning the concepts of helping to keep your kids safe from harm, both offline and online.

Participants will be updated on:

- the current trends in prevention
- the assumptions that have been made about kids and safety
- the mixed messages teens have received in the past
- how offenders engage teens, both online and offline
- practical safety tips
- how to talk to teens about personal safety
